WOMAN.
FEMALES, OWING TO THE peculiar and important relations which they sustain, their peculiar organization and the offices they perform, are subject to many sufferings. Freedom from these contribute in no small degree to their happiness and welfare, for none can be happy who are ill. Not only so, but no one of these various female complaints can long be suffered to run on without involving the general health of the individual, and ere long producing permanent sickness and premature decline. Nor is it pleasant to consult a physician for the relief of these various delicate affections, and only upon the most urgent necessity will a true woman so far sacrifice her greatest charm as to do this. The sex will then thank us for placing in their hands simple specifics which will be found efficacious in relieving and curing almost every one of those troublesome complaints peculiar to the sex.

Report of the Comptroller of the Currency.
Mr. H. R. Hurlbut, Comptroller of the Currency, has completed his report. Its chief points heretofore briefly noted, are as follows:
The Comptroller suggests that national banking associations which are in voluntary liquidation be required to provide for their outstanding circulation in lawful money, and take up their bonds within three or six months; in default of which, the Comptroller shall have power to sell their bonds by auction in New York city, and after paying to the treasurer the amount of the outstanding circulation of the bank in lawful money, to pay over any excess that may be realized from the sale of the bonds to the association or its legal representatives. Banks that are winding up for the purpose of consolidating with other banks, or with a view of reorganizing at some other and more desirable points, should be excepted from the foregoing requirements.
In regard to a central redeeming agency, the Comptroller says: "The opinion was expressed in the last annual report from this office that it was important that a system of redemption for National Bank notes should be established as early as practicable, by means of which they should be made convertible into the lawful money of the country, whether it be paper or gold, at the principal center of trade. Without repeating the argument then made, the conviction is again expressed that only by rigid, unfailing redemptions at a central point, can the bank currency of the country be kept at a uniform par value."
The Comptroller speaks as follows in regard to the periodical statement of the bank statements of New York, taken separately, and the application of the facts so obtained to the aggregate statement or abstract of the whole, affords valuable and instructive information. The abstract shows the total of loans to be $183,634,000. An examination of the statements in detail shows the character of the loans to be substantially as follows: Commercial or business paper, $90,000,000; demand loans, $68,500,000; accommodation loans, $23,600,000; suspended loans, $1,500,000; total, $183,634,000. Nine sixteenths, or rather more than half the loan, is legitimate business paper; the balance is upon call or for accommodation. The amount loaned on all for commercial purposes is not stated, but trustworthy information leads to the belief that it is very small. The customs and necessities of trade are of such a character as to preclude loans of this kind.
"In addition to this direct loan of $70,000,000, the facilities by which the class of operators to an amount ranging from $110,000,000 to $120,000,000 daily. On the 5th of October the amount was $112,800,000, and these checks are made to swell the amount of individual deposits. They are credited to deposits as money, and are circulated and treated as money by the banks and by their customers. Yet, when ascertaining the amount of deposits upon which they must hold a reserve, or upon which they must pay, the banks invariably deduct all such checks on hand. For instance, on the first Monday of October they reported: Individual deposits, $224,170,000; but deducting checks on hand, $112,800,000, they had actual deposits of $111,370,000. Taking the call loans and the certified checks together, the somewhat startling fact is developed that the New York national banks furnish $700,000,000 of capital and $112,000,000 of credit for speculation. The use of certified checks is a direct inflation to that extent, which stimulates the stock market, and keeps the price of a large class of miscellaneous securities much above their actual value, so that the market is feverish and fluctuating, and a slight stringency reduces the price.
"Taking advantage of an active demand for money to move the crops, West and South, shrewd operators have by combinations to depress the market by 'locking up' money, withdrawing all they can control or borrow from the common fund; money becomes scarce, the rate of interest advances and stocks decline. The legitimate demand for money continues, and fearful of trenching on their reserve, the banks are straitened for means. They dare not call in their demand loans, for that would compel their customers to sell securities on a falling market, which would make matters worse. Habitually lending their means to the utmost limit of prudence, and their credit much beyond that limit, to brokers and speculators, they are powerless to afford relief. Their customers, by the force of circumstances, become their masters. The banks cannot hold back or withdraw from the dilemma, in which their mode of doing business has placed them. They must carry the load to save their margins.
"A panic, which should greatly reduce the price of securities, or upon which the banks most extensively engaged in such operations, and would produce a feeling of insecurity which would be very dangerous to the entire banking interests of the country. The fact that a banking interest with a capital and surplus of $100,000,000 can be, and has been repeatedly, placed at the mercy of a few shrewd, though bold and unscrupulous men, is evidence of some inherent defect in its management, and the foregoing statement may serve in some degree to show where the error lies: First, in demand or call loans to brokers and speculators on collateral security, by which nearly one-half the active resources of the banks are used directly to foster and promote speculative operations; secondly, certified checks or loans of credit to the same class of men, where by stocks are inflated and immense operations are carried on daily upon fictitious capital; third, the payment of interest on bank balances, which, being payable on demand, must be loaned on call in order to avoid loss."
Under the head of specie payments the Comptroller says:
"The subject of specie payments naturally comes up whenever the currency question is discussed, and much inquiry has been exercised in devising plans for an early resumption. The principal obstacle to specie payments is found in the statement of the public debt of the United States for the 1st of October, 1898, under the head of 'debt bearing no interest,' as follows: United States notes, $356,021,073; fractional currency,

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU.
Hundreds, suffer, in silence, and hundreds of others apply vainly to drug gists and doctors, who either merely tantalize them with the hope of a cure or apply remedies which make them worse. I would not wish to assert anything that would do injustice to the afflicted, but I am obliged to say that although it may be produced from excessive exhaustion of the powers of life, by laborious employment, unwholesome air and food, profuse menstruation, the use of tea, and coffee, and frequent childbirth, it is far oftener caused by direct irritation, applied to the mucous membrane of the vagina itself.
When reviewing the causes of these distressing complaints, it is most painful to contemplate the attendant evils consequent upon them. It is but simple justice to the subject to enumerate a few of the many additional causes which so largely affect the life, health and happiness of woman in all classes of society, and which, consequently, affect more or less directly, the welfare of the entire human family. The mania that exists for precocious education and marriage, causes the years that nature designed for corporeal development to be wasted and perverted in the restraints of dress, the early confinement of school, and especially in the unhealthy excitement of the ball-room. Thus, with the body half-clothed, and the mind unduly excited by pleasure, perverting in mid-night revel the hours designed by nature for sleep and rest, the work of destruction is half accomplished.
In consequence of this early strain upon her system, unnecessary effort is required by the delicate votary to retain her situation in school at a later day, thus aggravating the evil. When one excitement is over, another in prospective keeps the mind morbidly sensitive to impression, while the now constant restraint of fashionable dress, absolutely forbidding the exercise indispensable to the attainment and retention of organic health and strength; the exposure to high air; the sudden change of temperature; the complete prostration produced by excessive dancing, must, of necessity, produce their legitimate effect. At last, an early marriage caps the climax of misery, and the unfortunate one hitherto so utterly regardless of the plain dictates and remonstrances of her delicate nature, becomes an unwilling subject of medical treatment. This is but a truthful picture of the experience of thousands of our young women.
Long before the ability to exercise the functions of the generative organs, they require an education of their peculiar nervous system, composed of what is called the tissue, which is, in common with the female breast and lips, evidently under the control of mental emotions and associations at an early period of life; and, as we shall subsequently see, these emotions, when excessive, lead, long before puberty, to habits which sap the very life of their victims, are nature has self completed their development.
For Female Weakness and Debility, Whites or Leucorrhoea, Too Profuse Menstruation, Exhaustion, Too Long Continued Periods, for Protrusion and Biting Down, or Prolapsed Uteri, we offer the most perfect specific known: HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF BUCHU. Report of the Commissioner of Customs.
The Commissioner of Customs, in his annual report, uses the following language: "The great decadence of our shipping interest, especially of our vessels engaged in foreign trade, within four or five years, is a subject which it appears to me, deserves the immediate attention of Congress. The time was when much the largest portion of the carrying trade of the world was confined to American bottoms, and the proportion of foreign vessels seen in our ports was small. Now, much the largest portion of merchandise imported into the United States, at least from England and France, comes in foreign bottoms. With the proverbial energy and enterprise of American merchants this ought not to be, and would not be, unless there was some cause for this. This cause should be removed by Congress."
Report of the Interior Department.
The Secretary of the Interior, in his annual report, says that the quantity of public lands undisposed of is 1,405,366, 678 acres. The amount disposed of during the last year is 666,674,250 acres. The Secretary devotes a good portion of his report to the Pacific railroads, and, on the whole, speaks of them in excellent terms.

Thus, with the body half-clothed, and the mind unduly excited by pleasure, perverting in mid-night revel the hours designed by nature for sleep and rest, the work of destruction is half accomplished.
In consequence of this early strain upon her system, unnecessary effort is required by the delicate votary to retain her situation in school at a later day, thus aggravating the evil. When one excitement is over, another in prospective keeps the mind morbidly sensitive to impression, while the now constant restraint of fashionable dress, absolutely forbidding the exercise indispensable to the attainment and retention of organic health and strength; the exposure to high air; the sudden change of temperature; the complete prostration produced by excessive dancing, must, of necessity, produce their legitimate effect. At last, an early marriage caps the climax of misery, and the unfortunate one hitherto so utterly regardless of the plain dictates and remonstrances of her delicate nature, becomes an unwilling subject of medical treatment. This is but a truthful picture of the experience of thousands of our young women.
Long before the ability to exercise the functions of the generative organs, they require an education of their peculiar nervous system, composed of what is called the tissue, which is, in common with the female breast and lips, evidently under the control of mental emotions and associations at an early period of life; and, as we shall subsequently see, these emotions, when excessive, lead, long before puberty, to habits which sap the very life of their victims, are nature has self completed their development.

FEMALES, OWING TO THE peculiar and important relations which they sustain, their peculiar organization and the offices they perform, are subject to many sufferings. Freedom from these contribute in no small degree to their happiness and welfare, for none can be happy who are ill. Not only so, but no one of these various female complaints can long be suffered to run on without involving the general health of the individual, and ere long producing permanent sickness and premature decline. Nor is it pleasant to consult a physician for the relief of these various delicate affections, and only upon the most urgent necessity will a true woman so far sacrifice her greatest charm as to do this. The sex will then thank us for placing in their hands simple specifics which will be found efficacious in relieving and curing almost every one of those troublesome complaints peculiar to the sex.

Report of the Commissioner of Customs.
The Commissioner of Customs, in his annual report, uses the following language: "The great decadence of our shipping interest, especially of our vessels engaged in foreign trade, within four or five years, is a subject which it appears to me, deserves the immediate attention of Congress. The time was when much the largest portion of the carrying trade of the world was confined to American bottoms, and the proportion of foreign vessels seen in our ports was small. Now, much the largest portion of merchandise imported into the United States, at least from England and France, comes in foreign bottoms. With the proverbial energy and enterprise of American merchants this ought not to be, and would not be, unless there was some cause for this. This cause should be removed by Congress."
Report of the Interior Department.
The Secretary of the Interior, in his annual report, says that the quantity of public lands undisposed of is 1,405,366, 678 acres. The amount disposed of during the last year is 666,674,250 acres. The Secretary devotes a good portion of his report to the Pacific railroads, and, on the whole, speaks of them in excellent terms.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU.
Hundreds, suffer, in silence, and hundreds of others apply vainly to drug gists and doctors, who either merely tantalize them with the hope of a cure or apply remedies which make them worse. I would not wish to assert anything that would do injustice to the afflicted, but I am obliged to say that although it may be produced from excessive exhaustion of the powers of life, by laborious employment, unwholesome air and food, profuse menstruation, the use of tea, and coffee, and frequent childbirth, it is far oftener caused by direct irritation, applied to the mucous membrane of the vagina itself.
When reviewing the causes of these distressing complaints, it is most painful to contemplate the attendant evils consequent upon them. It is but simple justice to the subject to enumerate a few of the many additional causes which so largely affect the life, health and happiness of woman in all classes of society, and which, consequently, affect more or less directly, the welfare of the entire human family. The mania that exists for precocious education and marriage, causes the years that nature designed for corporeal development to be wasted and perverted in the restraints of dress, the early confinement of school, and especially in the unhealthy excitement of the ball-room. Thus, with the body half-clothed, and the mind unduly excited by pleasure, perverting in mid-night revel the hours designed by nature for sleep and rest, the work of destruction is half accomplished.
